Note: These files were downloaded long ago from various Internet sites, some of which are long gone at this time. As far as we know, none had any licensing or other usage restrictions at the time they were downloaded. However, if there are files in this collection that do indeed have usage restrictions, please contact us [1] and we will remove them if required. And, of course, credit is given to all who produced these files.

A collection of MIDI [2] files from back in the Web 1.0 era. Select an item from the list and a popup window will appear that plays the music, provided your browser has a plugin installed that plays MIDI files.
